The New Standard of Care

Covid-19 quickly transformed telemedicine from a nice to have benefit to the New Standard of Care in America.

CDC states: Telemedicine changes the way that health care is delivered... Telemedicine will reduce staff exposure to ill persons, reduce ill persons exposure to other ill persons, preserve much needed PPE (personal protective equipment) and minimize the impact of patient surges on facilities.

Telehealth services help provide necessary care to patients while minimizing the transmission risk of COVID-19 to healthcare personnel (HCP) and patients.

"While telehealth technology and its use are not new, widespread adoption among HCP and patients beyond simple telephone correspondence has been relatively slow. Before the COVID-19 pandemic, trends show some increased interest in use of telehealth services by both HCP and patients. However, recent policy changes during the COVID-19 pandemic have reduced barriers to telehealth access and have promoted the use of telehealth as a way to deliver acute, chronic, primary and specialty care. Telehealth can also improve patient health outcomes."

This pandemic has increased the share of Americans that have participated in telehealth from 11% in 2019 to 46% today, with healthcare systems reporting a 50 to 175-fold increase in telehealth volume. What does this mean? That almost everyone now knows what Telemedicine is, but may not know its available to an individual consumer or even how to get a Telemedicine plan.

The window of opportunity for explosive growth at Health Alliance Network has never been greater.

Our recent survey shows that over 87% of respondents said they would prefer to make a Telemedicine Visit -vs- an in person Doctor Office Visit. Most now understand there is a health risk when making an in person visit and of course the inconvenience of making an appointment then driving to a doctor office visit. "ain't nobody got time for that"

Health Alliance Network Telemedicine Service is the new New Standard of Care for healthcare in America.
